

DISCLAIMER & CERTIFICATIONS

The following Disclaimer Certification Statements are available on line at www.encocontainer.com or by fax. It is important to follow these instructions completely. Failure to comply with these instructions invalidates the certification and may result in severe penalties under federal and/or state laws. It is the responsibility of the end-user to determine authorization for use under these regulations. All other warranties, expressed and implied, including any warranty that the packaging tested is merchantable or fit for a particular purpose, are disclaimed.

These packages are designed for a one-time shipment of hazardous materials and not intended for re-use.

If you are not the end user, it is your responsibility to inform the end user of the hazardous material shipment procedures.

Enco is not responsible for any loss or damage, whether direct or indirect, resulting from the sale, use or misuse of the Enco containers.

All shipments must be properly classified, described, marked, labeled and packaged in accordance with 49 CFR. Consult the CFR Title 49 Part 172.101 to review the hazardous materials table, listing the proper shipping name of hazardous materials.

Consult the appropriate UN/IMO/ICAO/DOT regulations before shipping.

- UN Packaging refers to a package conforming to the standards in the UN Recommendations of the Transport of Dangerous Goods
- IMO refers to the International Maritime Organizations
- ICAO refers to the International Civil Aviation Organization
- DOT refers to the U.S. Department of Transportation
